

3- Continue the Conversation - Continuous Learning

Read the start of the conversation between two developers about continuous learning, and then continue the conversation with a classmate, expressing your thoughts and ideas on the topic.

Start of Conversation: Hey there! I've been thinking a lot about the importance of continuous learning in our field lately. Do you agree that it's crucial for developers to keep learning new skills and technologies?

Now, continue the conversation with your classmates.

4- How does ongoing learning contribute to professional growth and career development in the software development field? Discuss with your classmates.

Homework

Every project that we work on has a project management methodologies. Share with the class what your favorite methodology is.
