

4- Think or create a story about the time you went to an IT event and tell your classmates using reported speech.

What happened in the event?
What the event was about?
Did you talk with anyone important?
Who were they? What did they tell you?

Homework

One important thing when you are in a job interview is being able to talk about a project that you have done.

Make a small presentation about the most important project you've done, or your portfolio, if you have, and share with the class.
