

Preposition of place

Prepositions of Place are used to show the position or location of one thing with another. It answers the questions that start with "Where...?"

*"Where is the doc from the last meeting?
It is on the drive, in the 'Project X'."*

Below we have some examples of Prepositions of Place:

In front of

He is in front of the computer

Behind

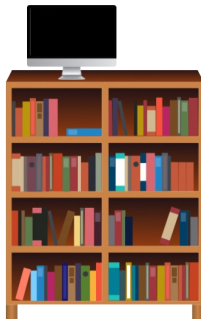

The whiteboard is behind him

Next to

The camera is next to the computer

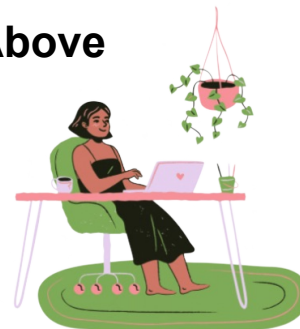

Over

Below

The computer is over the bookcase
The book case is below the computer

Above

Under

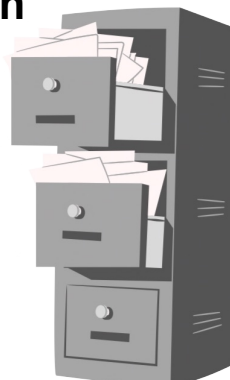

The plant is above the desk.
The desk is under the chair

Between

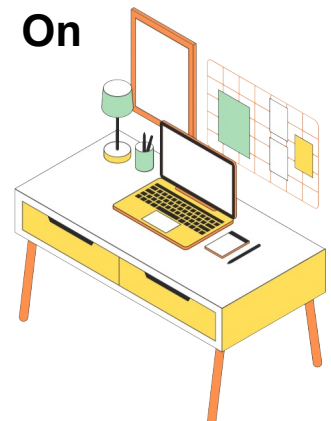

The computer is between the printer and the notes.

In

The file is in the cabinet.

On

The laptop is on the table.